

SHRI Leading HR Summit 2007

SHRI
Powering Human Capital

Bringing Leading HR Practices and People to the fore

30-31 August 2007 | Thursday-Friday | 9am to 5pm | Amara Hotel Singapore

This Summit provides the opportunities for the recipients of The Singapore HR Awards 2007 to share and showcase their successful experiences and initiatives to build great places to work in.

SHRI Leading HR Summit is part of SHRI's continuing effort to build a community of leading HR practices, thus allowing organisations to learn, reflect, and to enhance their respective HR practices. At the same time, HR individuals can enhance their knowledge and skills, and therefore be able to contribute more effectively to their organisations and their profession.

It is our strong belief that sound HR practices are critical to business growth and development. We see 'leading' as different from 'best', as 'leading' promotes and encourages continuity, improvement and further breakthroughs.

Hear from the HR practitioners as they share on how they apply those leading practices to their work!
